

Code of Conduct

A message from the CEO

At Open International, doing things right is one of our most essential values. We put in hours of work every day to provide software that enhances the lives of people all over the world.

We are clear about what we mean when we talk about doing things right. Not only does it mean that we provide products that are well made, fairly priced and of exceptional quality, but it also means that every step we take in making those products is taken with ethics and integrity in mind. Through every project we decide to take on, we monitor our entire operation for compliance with our code of conduct.

Doing things right is not an option at Open International. Working here means making a commitment to uphold our company values and following the code of conduct outlined in this document. Thank you for upholding our values and helping us to be an exceptional software company.

William Corredor, CEO/President/Founder

Table of contents

- Introduction 4
- Ethical Principles and Core Values 4
- Decision Making and the Code of Conduct 4
- Reporting/Speaking Up 4
- No Retaliation 4
- Equal Opportunity 4

- Harassment 5
- Bullying 5
- Conflicts of Interest 5
- External Communication on Behalf of the Company 5
- Confidentiality 5
- Privacy 5

- Competition, Fair Dealings and Antitrust 6
- Bribery and Facilitation Payments 6
- Gifts and Entertainment 6

- Record Keeping 7
- Protection and Proper Use of Company Assets 7
- Money Laundering 7
- Health and Safety 7
- Environment 7
- Information Technology 7
- Internet Use 7

- Use of Social Media 8
- Corporate Social Responsibility 8
- Code of Conduct Acknowledgement 8

Introduction

This code of conduct clarifies Open International's core values and business standards, which are to be followed by all employees, managers, and executives on a day to day basis. Our code acts as a guide for our employees, that helps drive our ethical culture and encourages us, as a company, to continue doing business the right way. At Open International, we believe that following the highest ethical standards is the foundation of a successful organization and expect that anyone who carries a business relationship with us to demonstrate the same principles.

Our Ethical Principles and Core Values

- Innovation
- Prudence
- Communication
- Integrity
- Reliability
- Tenacity
- Proactivity
- Commitment
- Persuasion
- Intelligence
- Teamwork
- Commitment to the code

Decision Making and the Code of Conduct

When making a decision, ask yourself the following:

- Is it legal?
- Does it comply with the code?
- Does it reflect our company values and ethics?
- Does it respect the rights of others?
- If you are unsure about any of the answers, ask.

Reporting/Speaking Up

Open International encourages all employees to ask questions and raise issues without fear of retaliation. We are committed to treating reports seriously and investigating them thoroughly. Employees are expected to report suspected unethical, illegal, or suspicious behavior immediately. Open International does not tolerate retaliation against anyone who makes a report of suspected misconduct or otherwise assists with an investigation or audit.

To report a concern:

- Talk to your manager
- Contact Human Resources at hugo.ocampo@openintl.com
- Send an anonymous report to Human Resources if you prefer

No Retaliation

Employees who report a concern in confidence cannot be subjected to any adverse employment action including:

- Unfair dismissal, demotion, or suspension
- Unfair denial of a promotion, transfer, or other employment benefit
- Bullying and harassment, either in person or online
- Exclusionary behavior
- Any other behavior that singles out the person unfairly

Equal Opportunity

Open International does not tolerate discrimination based on race, color, religion, gender, age, national origin, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, or any other protected class.

Harassment

At Open International, we expect everyone to treat all employees, customers, business partners and other stakeholders with the utmost respect at all times.

Any type of harassment, including physical, sexual, verbal or other, is prohibited and can result in disciplinary action up to, and including, termination.

Harassment can include actions, language, written words or objects that create an intimidating or hostile work environment, such as:

- Yelling at or humiliating someone
- Physical violence or intimidation
- Unwanted sexual advances, invitations or comments
- Visual displays such as derogatory or sexually-oriented pictures or gestures
- Physical conduct including assault or unwanted touching
- Threats or demands to submit to sexual requests as a condition of employment or to avoid negative consequences

Bullying

We are committed to ensuring that our employees, our contractors and our customers work in safe and respectful environment that is free of bullying. Bullying can include:

- Spreading malicious rumor or gossip
- Excluding or isolating someone socially
- Establishing impossible deliverables
- Withholding necessary information or purposefully giving the wrong information
- Intimidating someone
- Impeding someone's work
- Unfairly denying training, leave or promotion
- Constantly changing work guidelines
- Sending offensive jokes or emails
- Criticizing or belittling someone constantly
- Tampering with a person's personal belongings or work equipment

Conflicts of Interest

A conflict of interest can occur when an employee's personal activities, investments or associations compromises their judgment or ability to act in the company's best interests. Employees should avoid the types of situations that can give rise to conflicts of interest.

It's important for employees to disclose any relationships, associations or activities that could create actual, potential, or even perceived, conflict of interest to their manager or the Human Resources Department.

External Communication on Behalf of the Company

Only the CEO, President of North America, VP Sales and Marketing are authorized to represent the company to media. Employees should refer all requests for information or interviews to the VP of Marketing.

Confidentiality

Open International and its employees maintain the confidentiality of all proprietary information. Proprietary information includes all non-public information that might be harmful to the company and its customers and business partners if disclosed.

Confidential information can include:

- Customer lists
- Supplier lists
- Pricing information
- Terms of contracts
- Company policies and procedures
- Financial statements
- Marketing plans and strategies
- Trade secrets
- Any other information that could damage the company or its customers or partners if it was disclosed

Privacy

Open International complies with the requirements of the country's and international privacy laws. All employees sign an agreement that contains provisions for information confidentiality and non-disclosure.

The company and its employees do not disclose any private, personal information of:

- Employees
- Customers
- Partners
- Competitors
- Third parties

Employees store all personal information securely, mark it as confidential and store it only for as long as it is needed for the purpose for which it was collected.

When providing personal information, employees limit access to only those with a clear business need for the information.

Employees are required to report any breaches of privacy, including the loss, theft of or unauthorized access to personal information, to their manager.

Competition, Fair Dealings and Antitrust

While Open International is actively competing for new business, relationships with business partners are built upon trust and mutual benefits and compliant with competition/antitrust laws.

Employees are required to:

- Communicate the company's products and services in a manner that is fair and accurate, and that discloses all relevant information
- Familiarize themselves with the company's fair competition policies and remain aware of the consequences of any violation of policies or laws governing fair competition
- Consult the company's legal department before engaging in any new practice that may affect fair competition
- Refrain from price fixing, bid rigging, and any other anti-competitive activities
- Advise their manager immediately of possible violations of fair competition practices

Bribery and Facilitation Payments

Open International will not attempt to influence the judgement or behavior of a person in a position of trust by paying a bribe or kickback. This applies to persons in government and in private business.

At Open International, we do not permit facilitation (or "grease") payments to government officials or private business in order to secure or speed up routine actions.

Employees are to:

- Select third parties carefully and monitor them continuously to ensure they comply with the company's anti-bribery policies
- Keep accurate books and records at all times and monitor that funds are not being used for bribery or facilitation payments
- Refuse any offer or request for an unlawful payment and report the incident to Human Resources

Gifts and Entertainment

While gifts and entertainment among business associates can be appropriate ways to strengthen ties and build goodwill, they also have the potential to create the perception that business decisions are influenced by them. The company is committed to winning business only on the merits of its products, services and people and complies with all legal requirements for giving and receiving gifts and entertainment.

Employees are to:

- Use sound judgment and comply with the law, regarding gifts and other benefits
- Never allow gifts, entertainment or other personal benefits to influence decisions or undermine the integrity of business relationships
- Never accept gifts or entertainment that are illegal, immoral or would reflect negatively on the company
- Never accept cash, cash equivalents, stocks or other securities

Employees may accept occasional unsolicited personal gifts of nominal value such as promotional items and may provide the same to customers and business partners.

When in doubt, employees should check with Human Resources before giving or receiving anything of value.

Record Keeping

All documents, databases, voice messages, mobile device messages, computer documents, files and photos are records. Employees are required to:

- Maintain these records and protect their integrity for as long as required
- Maintain official record keeping systems to retain and file records required for business, legal, financial, research or archival purposes
- Dispose of your records according to the company's records retention and disposition schedule

Employees should never destroy documents in response to, or in anticipation of, an investigation or audit.

Protection and Proper Use of Company Assets

Open International requires all employees to protect its assets. All assets should be used for legitimate purposes, efficiently, and for company business only.

Assets include facilities, equipment, computers and information systems, telephones, employee time, confidential and proprietary information, corporate opportunities and company funds.

Suspected incidents of fraud, theft, negligence, and waste should be reported to Human Resources.

Money Laundering

The company complies with anti-money laundering laws. Money laundering is the process of concealing illicit funds by moving them through legitimate businesses to hide their criminal origin.

Employees must never knowingly facilitate money laundering or terrorist financing and must take steps to prevent inadvertent use of the company's business activities for these purposes. Employees are required to immediately report any unusual or suspicious activities or transactions such as:

- Attempted payments in cash or from an unusual financing source
- Arrangements that involve the transfer of funds to or from countries or entities not related to the transaction or customer
- Unusually complex deals that do not reflect a real business purpose
- Attempts to evade record-keeping or reporting requirements

Health and Safety

Open International conducts business in accordance with applicable health and safety requirements and strives for continuous improvement in its health and safety policies and procedures.

All employees are expected to perform their work in compliance with applicable health and safety laws, regulations, policies and procedures and apply safe work practices at all times in all locations.

Employees are required to immediately report workplace injuries, illnesses or unsafe conditions, including "near-misses."

Environment

At Open, we are committed to operating in an environmentally responsible manner, from the provision of products and services, to the operation of its offices and facilities, selection of suppliers and other business activities.

The company complies with all applicable environmental laws and regulations as well as self-directed commitments to sustainable practices and environmental protection.

Information Technology

The company expects its employees to help it safeguard all computer equipment and data against intentional malicious acts by individuals inside or outside the company. Cyber-security training is provided to all employees to ensure compliance with computer security policies.

Open International safeguards against inappropriate access by individuals or groups untrained in correct company policies or procedures. The company does not use software for which it does not have a license.

Internet Use

The company understands that occasional personal use of the internet during work hours is a reasonable request and allows this, within reason. Employees can ask for clarification from their managers if in doubt.

However, the company does not allow internet use to support a personal business, political venture, or embarrass the company and its customers.

Use of Social Media

Open International respects the right of employees to use social media for personal and professional purposes.

Employees are responsible for complying with company policies and procedures when communicating on social media. Employees are accountable for any information they publish online.

Employees are required to:

- Reveal their relationship with the company when commenting online on issues related to the company
- Ensure any information they post related to the company is accurate
- Comply with the rules of the social media sites they use

Employees must not:

- Speak on behalf of the company if they are not expressly authorized to do so
- Share confidential information about the company, its clients, stakeholders or suppliers
- Post comments or pictures that could harm the company's brand, reputation or commercial interests

Corporate Social Responsibility

At Open, we understand that corporate social responsibility extends to our entire supply chain. This encompasses not only the products and services supplied but also the human rights, ethics and social practices of our company and its suppliers.

One goal of the corporate social responsibility procurement program is to build partnerships with like-minded organizations.

Forced Labor: The company and its partners shall employ all employees under their own free will with no one being subjected to bonded or forced labor.

Child Labor: The company and its partners shall not employ any people under the minimum legal working age of the country in which they work.

Open International encourages and supports involvement in the community that has supported it. This includes supporting local business and talent by, for example, sourcing local products and services, where appropriate.

Code of Conduct Acknowledgement

By certifying to the company code of conduct, you acknowledge that:

- You have read the entire code of conduct and understand your responsibilities related to it.
- You have had the opportunity to ask questions to clarify any unclear aspects of the code.
- You agree to abide by its principles.
- You agree to report to the company any violations of the code.
- You agree to cooperate in any investigations of violations of the code.

Open